

“Culture eats strategy for breakfast”

Peter Drucker

What do we mean by culture?

“The way we do things around here” – Charles Handy

“A cohesion of values, myths, heroes and symbols that has come to mean a great deal to the people who work there” – Deal & Kennedy

“The deeper level of basic assumptions and beliefs that are shared by members of an organisation, that operate unconsciously, and that define in a basic ‘taken-for-granted’ fashion an organisation’s view of itself and its environment” – Edgar Schein

Observable elements of culture

Like the branches
of a tree, some elements of an organisation's culture are easily visible...

For example...

- Image, symbols and slogans
- Policies and Procedures
- Behaviours
- Stories
- Dress code
- Organisational structures
- Ceremonies
- Vision, Mission and Values
'statements'

'Hidden' elements of culture

For example...

- Feelings
- Attitudes
- Beliefs
- Perceptions
- Unwritten rules
- Shared assumptions

A photograph of a tree trunk cut in half, showing the internal structure. The outer bark is dark and textured. Inside, there is a layer of lighter-colored sapwood, and in the center, a darker, more solid heartwood. The background shows a grassy area and some foliage.

...but what's going on,
hidden 'beneath the bark', that can't so easily be seen?

What perceptions and attitudes are hidden
within the 'core'?

“The only thing of real importance that leaders do is create and manage culture. If you don’t manage culture, it manages you, and you may not even be aware of the extent to which this is happening.”

Edgar Schein

The Culture Tree

How can we start to map
Culture?

Back in 1992,
Gerry Johnson and Kevan Scholes proposed

6 distinctive interrelated elements

that could be used to uncover cultural assumptions and practices

The Culture Tree

Symbols

Stories

Power Structures

Organisational Structures

Control Systems

Rituals & Routines

Organisational Values

(influencing all elements of culture and at the heart of all decision making)

- What are the Stories inside the organisation and what do they tell you about who is valued?
- What Symbols around the organisation tell people that you value difference and embrace equalities irrespective of gender, race, sexual orientation, religion, disability, age and so on?
- Is there a level playing field for opportunities and progression that is supported by the Structures?
- Are your Control Systems measuring the right things or do they promote bias?
- Do your Routines and Rituals celebrate inclusivity and collaborative behaviours?
- Does the Power and influence in the system make it possible to rise to the top or influence outcomes on merit and irrespective of background?

Stories:

These might include...

- Early foundations
- Important achievements
- Significant struggles
- Heroes and mavericks

They usually convey a message about what is valued within the organisation

Your Culture Tree

Symbols:

These might include...

- Your organisation's brand character, logo and 'image' (web-site, etc.)
- How you celebrate and recognise success (i.e. awards)
- How status is recognised (private offices, parking spaces, etc.)
- Geographical location and type of building

Organisational Structures:

How does your organisation operate?

- Hierarchical or distributed leadership?
- Autocratic or collaborative?
- Team structures?
- Geographical locations?

Power Structures:

(Not necessarily hierarchical)

- Who's really in charge?
- Who has influence?
- Who 'makes things happen'?
- Who has a veto?

How widely spread is power and on what is power based?

Control systems:

How 'controlling' is your organisation?

- How is the organisation monitored?
- Is decision making centralised or regional/local?
- What are the autonomy limits?
- What reports are issued to keep control of operations?

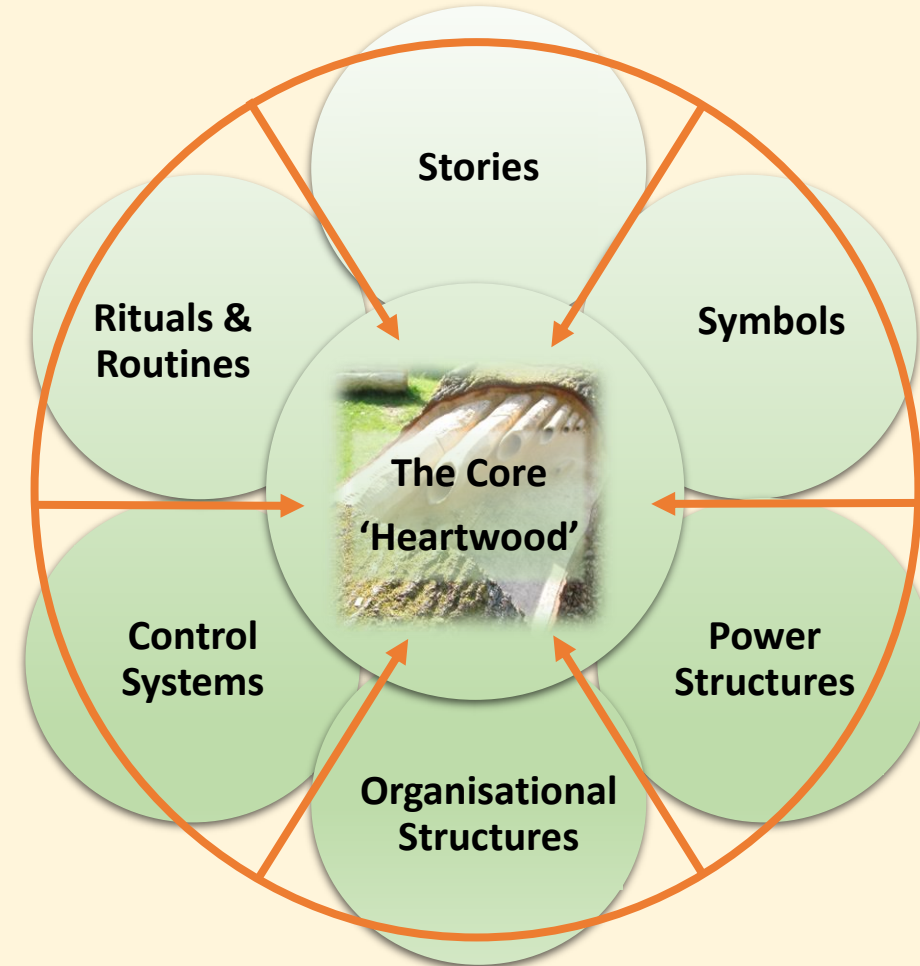

Routines & Rituals:

- What things are taken ‘for granted’?
- Are there regular communication updates?
- What are the organisation’s ‘habits’?
- How do you celebrate success?

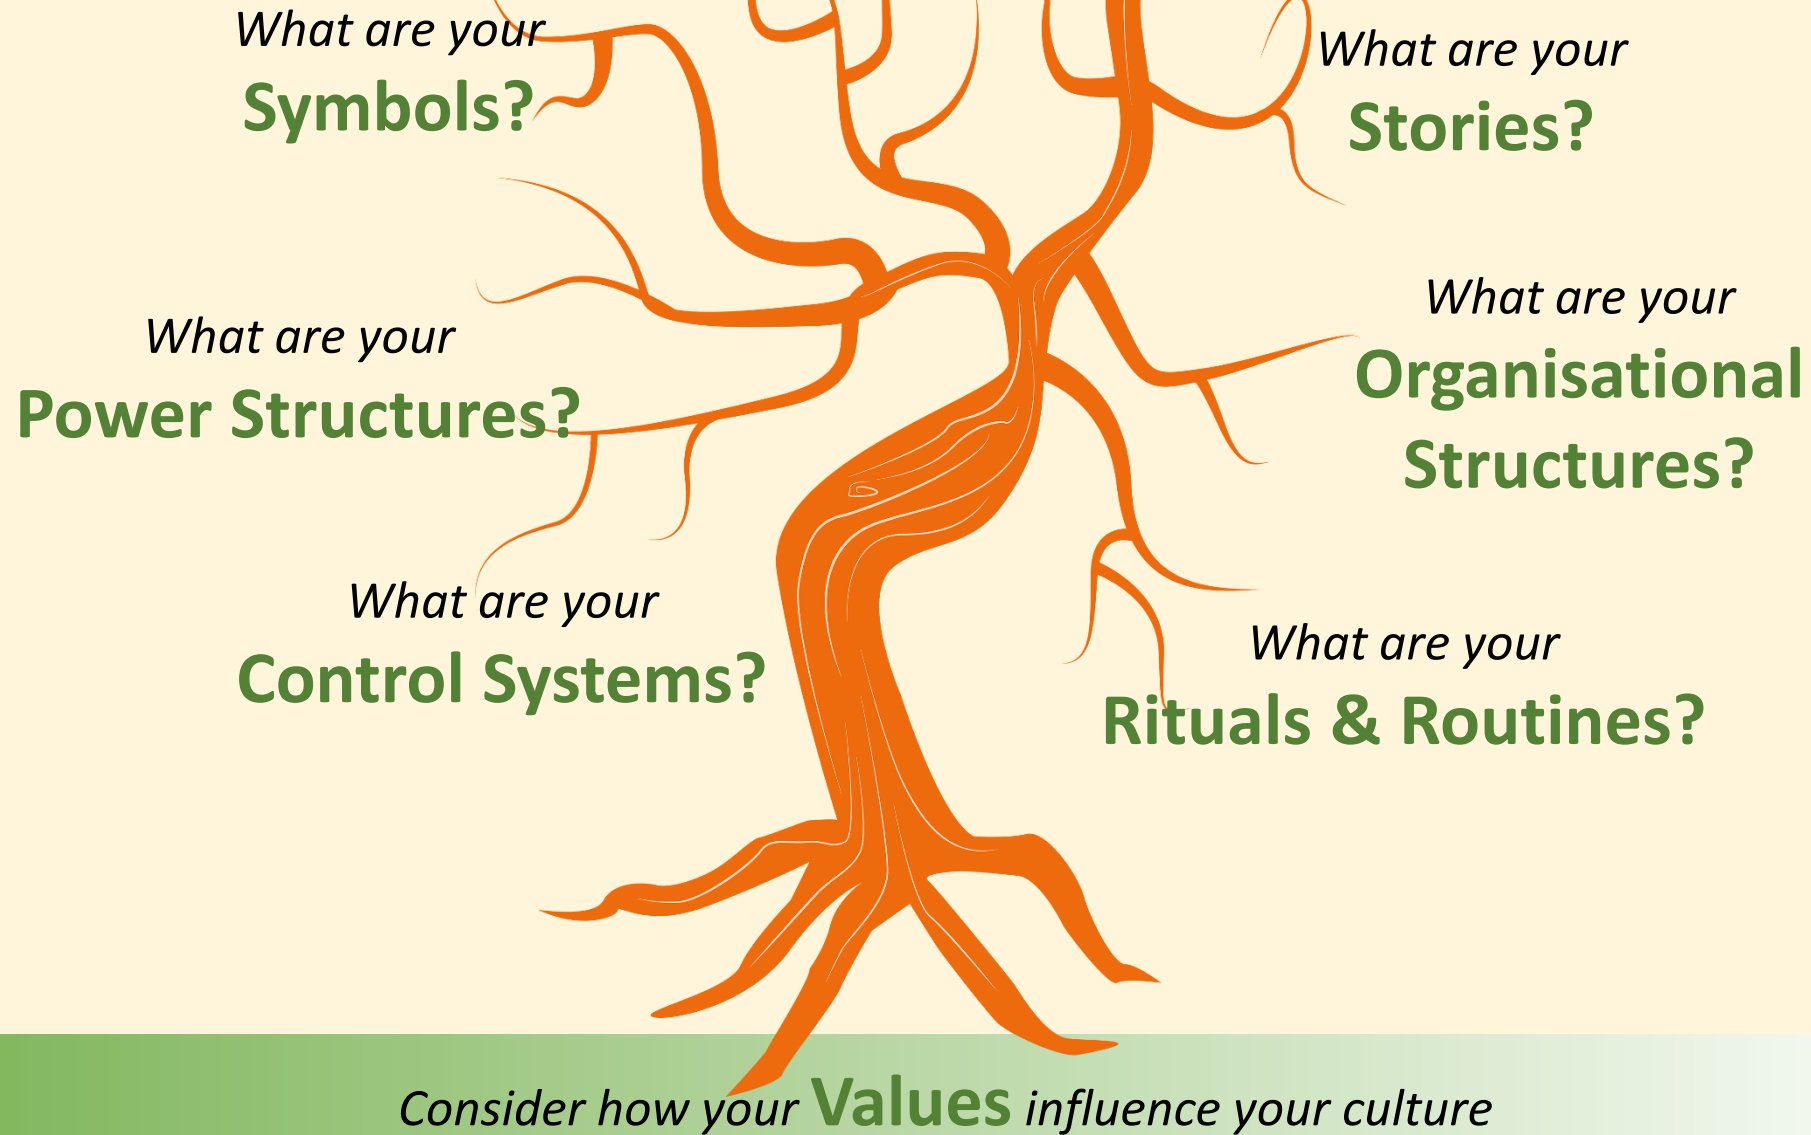

Diagnosing Your Culture Tree

When diagnosing the culture of an organisation, start at the outside and work inwards to identify how each interconnecting element is manifested in terms of day-to-day behaviour

Diagnosing Your Culture Tree

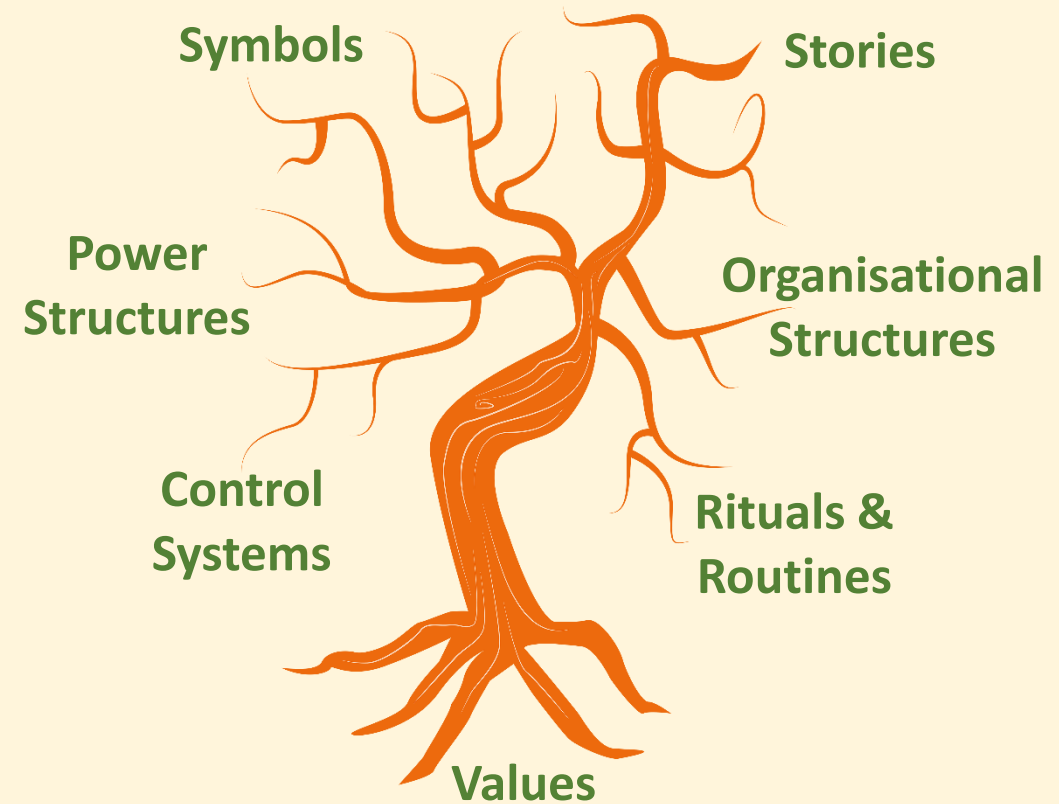

Diagnosing Your Culture Tree

Group Exercise

In teams of four people, discuss each observable element of your Culture Tree and then record the findings you are all agreed on.

Diagnosing Your Culture Tree

Review:

What were the common findings?

What does this tell you about your existing culture?

How can culture be *created, strengthened or managed?

Shaping Culture

If you want to change the culture of an organisation, start by defining the type of organisation that you want and then work outwards to identify the structures and behaviours needed to support it

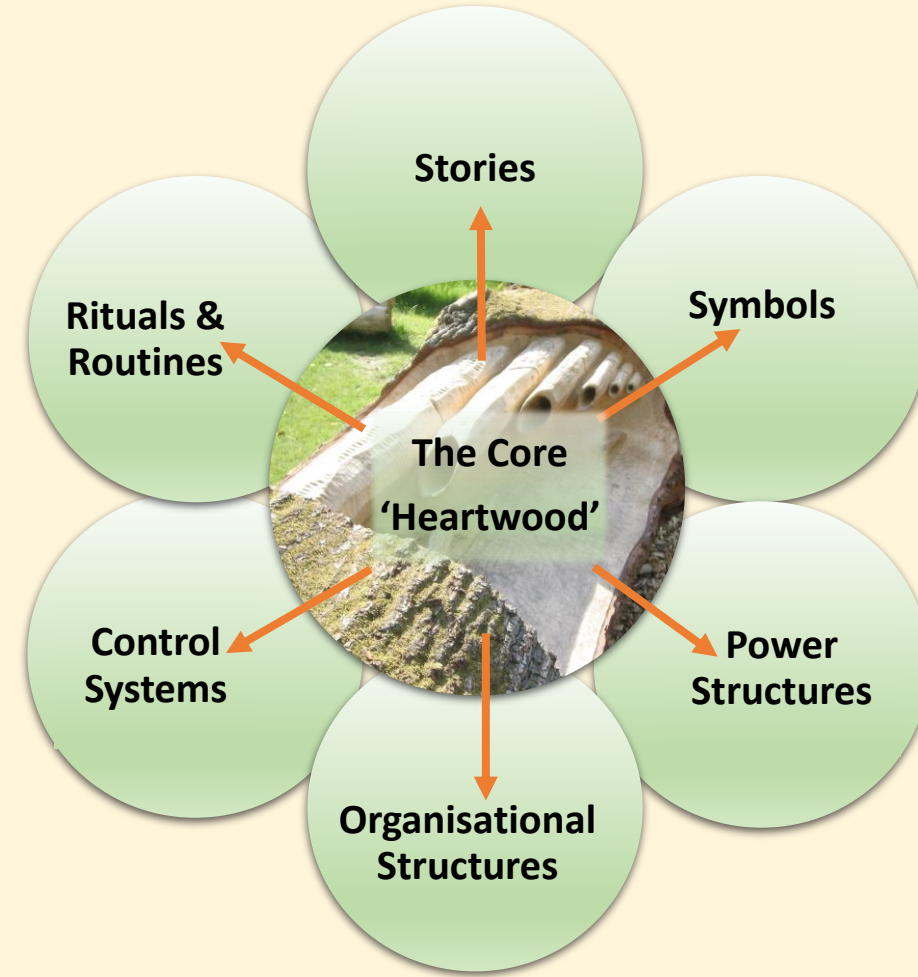

Shaping Culture

In groups:

- Describe the ‘strengthened’ cultural model that you envisage for your organisation
- What elements need to change to achieve this new model?
- How can these changes be brought about?
